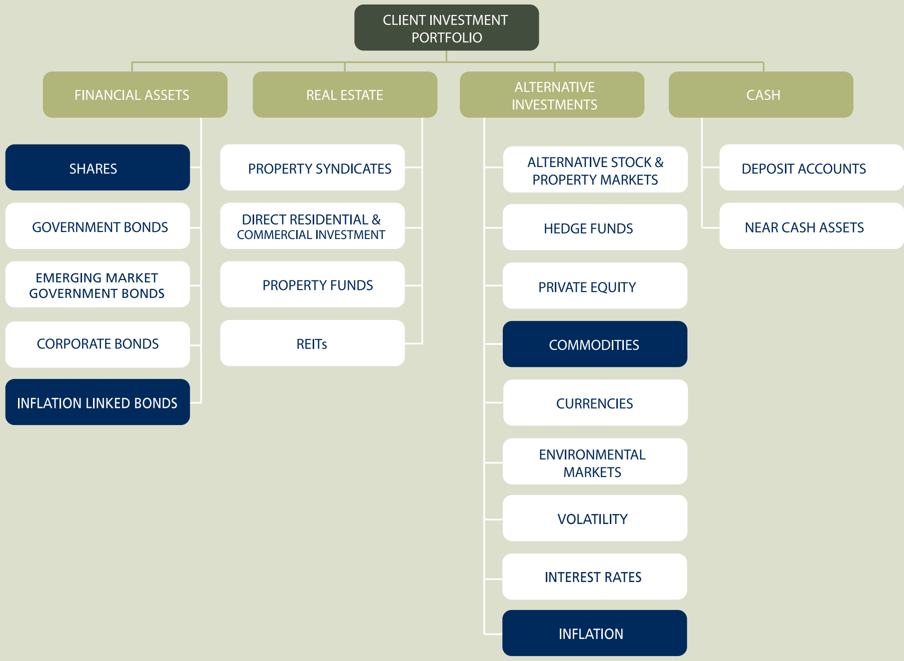
1. Introduction

Duggan Asset Management

Duggan Asset Management (DAM) designs innovative investment strategies that are developed to assist private investors and their advisors in building efficient and balanced investment portfolios.

By utilising international investment best practice, DAM creates well researched and compelling investment strategies and techniques that compliment one another in the construction of diverse investment portfolios. DAM assists private clients and their advisors in building investment portfolios that have the potential to meet each client's individual investment objectives and equally importantly, to exhibit the appropriate level of investment risk in preserving and growing private client wealth.

DAM structures investment portfolios that are diversified across numerous asset classes, geographic regions and industry sectors. DAM's primary focus is on Portfolio Asset Allocation and thereafter, the selection of leading international specialist investment managers to perform Stock Selection in their specific area of expertise. DAM's current House Asset Allocation Investment Policy recommends investment portfolios invested in appropriate proportions as follows:



Asset Allocation

Asset Allocation, or the proportion of an investment portfolio invested in each asset class, is the single largest contributor to investment performance and risk management within investment portfolios.

Investment Philosophies & Core Investment Principles

DAM's Investment Philosophies and Core Investment Principles are described in the table below:

Investment Philosophies	Investment Principles
Primary Focus on Asset Allocation	Real Balance & Diversification
Target Absolute Returns	Reduce Individual Manager Risk
Wealth Preservation	Reduce Market Correlation
Conservatism	Access Specialist Managers
	Measurability
International Best Practice	Efficient Risk Adjusted Returns

Alternative Investment Strategies & Alternative Asset Classes

Alternative Investment Strategies and Alternative Asset Classes can provide greater diversification and bring greater balance to well structured investment portfolios. Alternative Asset Classes are not necessarily correlated to stock markets and can even be uncorrelated from the economic and financial market cycle. This lack of correlation means that Alternative Investment Strategies and Alternative Asset Classes do not necessarily move up and down in tandem with the momentum of the stock & property markets or even the general economic environment. Therefore, Alternative Investment Strategies and Alternative Asset Classes have the potential to rise when stock & property markets are falling or when economies are weak and vice versa.

Including Alternative Investment Strategies and or Alternative Asset Classes in an investment portfolio has the potential to (1) accelerate the investment returns achieved by the portfolio (2) reduce volatility and risk within the portfolio or (3) provide some combination of accelerated returns and lower risk.

Adding Alternative Investment Strategies and/or Alternative Asset Classes to an already well diversified investment portfolio has the potential to deliver even more efficient risk adjusted, long term investment returns.

Duggan Asset Management Limited trading as Duggan Asset Management is regulated by the Central Bank of Ireland.

2. Executive Summary

- The Inflation Bond (the Bond) is an innovative Investment Strategy designed for private investors who wish to invest in a strategy that has the potential to benefit from rising or higher inflation and that can provide a hedge against the erosive impact of inflation on their investment portfolio. The Bond is suitable as part of the process of constructing a genuinely diversified investment portfolio.
- The Investment Rationale: The investment rationale can be summarised as:
  1. Opportunity to create capital growth in line with Inflation.
  2. Hedge investor portfolios from the threat of Inflation.
  3. Portfolio Diversification.

Because Inflation is a complex concept and has multiple effects on each asset class at different phases in its cycle, this strategy is actively rebalanced to take account of these inflation phases.

  1. Gold.
  2. Commodities.
  3. Inflation Linked Bonds.
  4. Inflation Swaps e.g. Consumer Price Indices (CPI).
  5. Select Equity Markets e.g. utility companies and emerging markets.

3. Description of the Bond

3.1 Introduction

What is Inflation?

Inflation has many definitions but at its simplest, Inflation is the rate of increase in general prices in an economy.

The official Eurostat definition is: “Inflation is a persistent rise in the prices of goods and services. It can be caused by an increase in the money supply, by an increase in demand due to government spending or by a contraction in the supply of goods”. Eurostat defines the Consumer Price Index (CPI) as “a measurement of the change over time in the prices of consumer goods and services acquired, used or paid for by households. CPIs aim to cover the whole set of goods and services consumed within the territory of a country by the population. To do this, a representative set is selected; the so-called consumer basket”.

Reuters defines the Inflation Rate as “the percentage change in the price index for a given period compared to that recorded in a previous period. It is usually calculated on a year-on-year or annual basis”.

There is no universal method of measuring inflation or indeed on arriving at a common consumer basket for the purposing of calculating CPI from country to country and region to region. This divergence in the consumer baskets used to calculate CPI in the US, Eurozone, Japan and India is illustrated in the following comparisons:

What are the causes of Inflation?

There are 3 primary causes of rising prices as follows:

1. An increase in the money supply
2. An increase in demand for goods & services
3. A contraction in the supply of goods and services

Policymakers and governments around the world (in the developed countries in particular) have been engaged in expansionary monetary policy in recent years including increasing the money supply in order to stimulate their economies in the aftermath of the Credit Crisis and economic downturn that started in 2007 and 2008.

In the meantime, the demand for goods and services has continued to grow in the developing world as economic growth remained at elevated levels and as infrastructure requirements grow and as tastes change in these countries as they acquire greater wealth.

Global Inflation is being driven by different forces effecting the developed and developing world as outlined in the table below:

Developed Countries	Developing Countries
Rising Inflation due largely to expansionary fiscal (cutting taxes & raising government spending) and monetary policies (buying back government bonds, quantitative easing and increasing the money supply). Contained by spare capacity in the real economy caused by economic contraction following the Credit Crisis. Believed by some Central Banks to be external or "imported" from Developing Countries and/or rising commodity prices.	Rising Inflation due largely to increasing demand for commodities and other real assets (e.g. high sensitivity to food prices). Caused also by wage increase pressure. Core Inflation increases are more structural on the grounds of a growing and increasingly wealthy population.

3.2 The Investment Rationale for The Inflation Bond

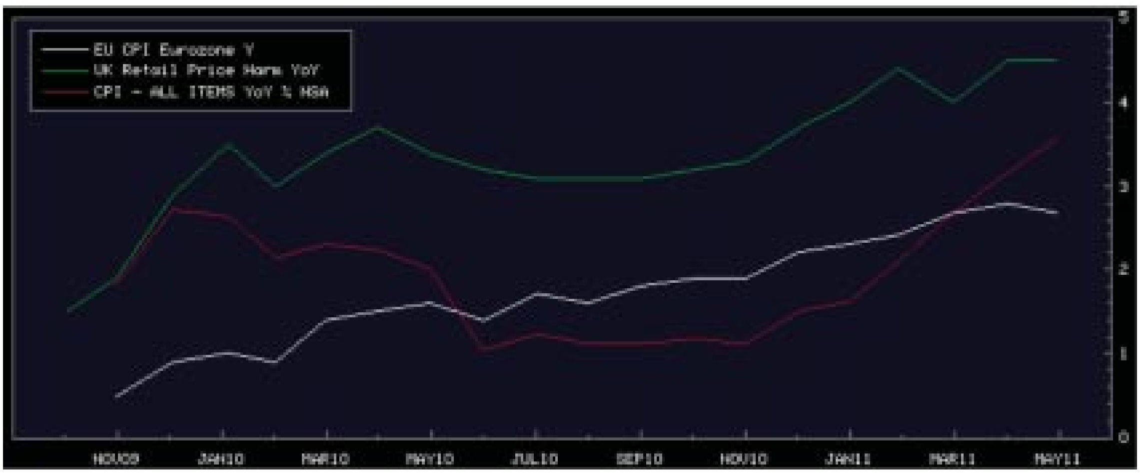
Inflation is back?

The Rate of Inflation around the world has been increasing since the beginning of 2010. The pace of increase in the Inflation Rate has accelerated in 2011. By June 2011, the Inflation Rate has risen as follows:

Region	Rate of Annual Inflation (CPI)
UK	4.5%
US	3.6%
Eurozone	2.7%
Emerging Markets	Estimated >6%

Source: Bloomberg (May 2011)

This increase in the Inflation Rate is also illustrated in the graph below:



Source: Bloomberg (November 2009 to May 2011)

Investment Rationale

The investment rationale for investing in the Bond can be summarised as follows:

1. Opportunity to create capital growth in line with Inflation: If Inflation remains at current levels or rises, the underlying investment strategy has the potential to generate positive returns for investors.
2. Hedge investor portfolios from the threat of Inflation: Inflation has a corrosive effect on the value of an investment portfolio. Investment returns must keep pace with Inflation in order to preserve wealth and the value of an investment portfolio.
3. Portfolio Diversification: The Rate of Inflation does not necessarily move in tandem with the momentum of the stock markets or of the financial markets generally. Due to this potential lack of correlation, investing in Inflation provides a portfolio with the potential to rise even when traditional assets are falling. Investing in an uncorrelated asset class like Inflation adds diversification to a well-structured portfolio consisting of other traditional asset classes.

How to invest in Inflation?

Inflation is complex asset class. It is difficult to measure globally in a universal way, it is caused by different factors in different regions and has multiple effects on each asset class during each period in an Inflationary cycle. There are 5 asset classes that are considered "Inflation friendly" i.e. that have the potential to rise during periods of rising or persistent inflation as follows:

GOLD	COMMODITIES	INFLATION-LINKED BONDS	INFLATION SWAPS	EQUITIES
Considered as a "safe haven", particularly in phases of strong inflation...	Generator of inflationary pressures but also impacted by inflation anticipations...	Government bonds linked to inflation indicators (e.g. Euro, HICP, RPI, Inflation Protected Securities...), i.e. by nature primarily correlated to interest rates...	Financial instrument which allows investors to swap a fixed rate on a notional amount against a floating rate linked to an inflation index (e.g. CPI), subject to realised vs. implied inflation spreads and not accessible to all investors...	Sensitivity to inflation dependent on the sector, geographical origin and time horizon...

Source: BNP Paribas (June 2011)

However, there is no guarantee that investing in any 1 of these "Inflation friendly" assets will work. For example, there are periods in an upward Inflation cycle when investing in Gold or Inflation linked Bonds will be advantageous but there are also periods when investing in Industrial Metals or directly into the CPI in a particular region would be more effective in terms of generating capital growth or hedging against Inflation. Therefore, it may be optimal to use an Investment strategy that has the potential to invest in all 5 of these "Inflation friendly" assets and has the potential to rebalance the exposure to the most effective of the 5 assets on an ongoing basis. The Inflation Bond utilises such an Inflation investment strategy.

3.3 The Underlying Investment Strategy – The BNP Paribas Multi-Asset Inflation Strategy 5% Index

This strategy is designed to invest in the 5 "Inflation friendly" assets described above. It is rebalanced monthly to take account of the recent momentum in the performance of each of these 5 assets. The strategy can also take short positions in the equities and government bonds to attempt to generate gains if these assets are falling during Inflationary periods.

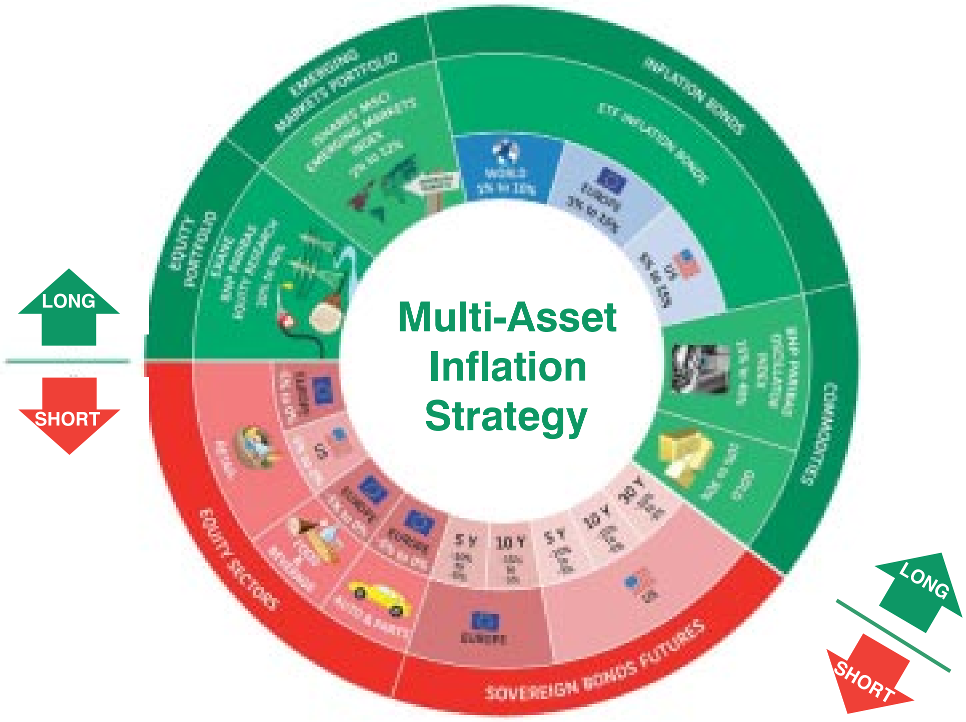
The strategy is rules based and the allocation to the long and short positions will be taken on the basis of an algorithm developed by BNP Paribas.

1 An opportunistic multi-asset approach	2 A dynamic monthly allocation	3 A daily risk control
Inflation assets are impacted depending on the context and the time horizon. Covers a wide range of risky assets: Equities, Emerging Markets, Commodities, Gold, Government Bonds and Inflation-linked Bonds.	Allocation is determined according to an algorithm developed by BNP Paribas. To offer increased reactivity, this allocation is reviewed monthly. Allocation allows long and short positions depending on the underlying assets.	The overall volatility level is kept below a certain threshold (5% for the BNP Paribas Multi-Asset Inflation Strategy vol 5 ER Index).

Source: BNP Paribas (June 2011)

Where is the Underlying Investment Strategy invested?

The strategy can take long positions in the 5 “Inflation friendly” assets and short positions in other asset classes that do not tend to perform favourably in Inflationary environments as described below:



Source: BNP Paribas (June 2011)

The allocation to each asset will be constrained to the following ranges:

LONG

Assets	Equity Portfolio	Equity Emerging Markets	Eur. Infl. Bonds	World ex US Infl. Bonds	US Infl. Bonds	BNPP Oscillator Commodities Index	Gold
Exposure (%)	20 – 60	2 – 12	3 – 15	1 – 10	5 – 15	15 – 40	10 – 30

SHORT

Assets	US Retail Sector	Eur. Food & Beverage Sector	Eur. Auto & Parts Sector	Eur. Retail Sector	Eur. 5Y Gov. Bonds	Eur. 10Y Gov. Bonds	US 5Y Gov. Bonds	US 10Y Gov. Bonds	US 30Y Gov. Bonds

Source: BNP Paribas (June 2011)

Risk Control Mechanism

A daily control is implemented to reduce exposure to all assets when short term volatility exceeds the target threshold of 5%. In addition to constraining the exposure to each asset to the ranges outlined above and in addition to rebalancing the allocation to each asset each month based on recent momentum, the strategy will reduce the exposure to the assets in the portfolio when volatility exceeds the target level.

This daily exposure to the underlying assets will be 100% when the volatility level of the strategy is 5%. When the level of volatilty is above 5%, the exposure to the underlying assets will be less than 100% and when the level of volatility is below 5%, the exposure to the underlying assets will be 100%. The daily exposure can be between 0% and 100% depending on the prevailing level of volatilty. For example, when the prevailing level of volatility is 4%, the exposure to the underlying assets will be 100% or when the prevailing level of volatily is 6%, the exposure to the underlying assets will be 83.33%.

Simulated Past Performance & Risk Statistics

The Index was launched or went live on 1 April 2011. The Index would have provided a simulated annualised return of 4.07% between 30 September 2005 and 30 June 2011 with simulated annualised volatility of approximately 4.7%. This simulated past performance does not take account of the 200% Participation Rate in this Bond but reflects only the increase in the underlying index. This confirms favourably with Eurozone CPI [Eurostat Eurozone HICP Ex Tobacco Unrevised Series NSA Index (Bloomberg: CPTFEMU Index)] of 1.99% annualised return over the same period as illustrated in the graph below:

Data from 30 September 2005 to 31 March 2011 is simulated. Data from 1 April 2011 to 30 June 2011 is live.

€83,760 or 83.76% will be used to secure the promised payment of €100,000 payable after 4 Years, 3 Months. This is equivalent to a promised return on this part of the investment of 4.26% Compound Annual Rate (CAR) before tax is deducted (if applicable).

€11,400 or 11.4% will be used to secure the cash bonus which may be payable after 4 Years, 3 Months.

€4,840 or 4.84% will be taken in charges. Intermediaries will receive €3,000 or 3% from these charges.

Total €100,000 or 100%.

If the cash bonus on your Investment after 4 Years, 3 Months is zero, the promised payment will represent a return of 0% CAR on your total investment over the period to the date of the promised payment, before any tax is deducted.

*CAR is the Compound Annual Rate and illustrates what the interest rate would be if paid and compounded each year. Gross is the interest rate paid before the deduction of tax. Any interest that is payable to you from your deposit subject to the terms of the Investment will be done so after the deduction of relevant tax.

Do I have access to my investment?

The Bond has been designed as a long term investment and should only be considered by investors who do not require access to their investment before the end of the term. Early encashment requests will only be permitted in exceptional circumstances. Investors should also note that the 100% Capital Protection applies only on the maturity date at the end of the 4 Year, 3 Month term.

Warning: The Bond has a 4 Year, 3 Month term. It is only suitable for investors who are willing to invest their capital for this 4 Year, 3 Month term.

Warning: If you cash in your investment before 23 December 2015 you may lose some or all of the money you put in.

Warning: Deductions for charges and expenses are not made uniformly throughout the life of the product, but are loaded disproportionately onto the early period. If an investor withdraws from the bond prior to the end of the 4 Year, 3 Month term, the practice of front-end loading will impact on the amount of money that the investor receives.

What happens if I die before the Bond matures?

In the event of the death of a sole investor or surviving joint account holder prior to the expiry of the term, the account will continue to the maturity date in the name of the executor or administrator. Alternatively, subject to the Bank's discretion, the Bond may be redeemed prior to maturity, subject to normal probate regulations, at its realisable value which may be lower than the original amount invested and lower than the Capital Protected amount.

Warning: If you cash in your investment before 23 December 2015 you may lose some or all of the money you put in.

Warning: Deductions for charges and expenses are not made uniformly throughout the life of the product, but are loaded disproportionately onto the early period. If an investor withdraws from the bond as a result of death in the early period, the practice of front-end loading will impact on the amount of money that the investor receives.

What about tax?

Our understanding is that the taxation treatment of an investment in this strategy for private individuals, based on current tax law, is as follows:

- Your investment is subject to the deduction of Deposit Interest Retention Tax (DIRT) from any interest added to your investment at maturity. Under current legislation, the effective DIRT rate on the Bond is 30%. This is subject to change without notice.
- You will be obliged to include this investment return amount, before DIRT, in your income tax return for the year in which the investment matures.
- You are likely to have no further personal tax liability on returns from this investment once DIRT has been deducted at maturity.
- Some investors, such as individuals over 65 and those who are permanently incapacitated, may be able to reclaim from the Revenue any DIRT deducted from the investment at maturity, if they are not otherwise liable to tax on this investment.
- Companies, Pension Funds, Non-Resident Investors, Credit Unions and Registered Charities may be entitled, in certain circumstances, to be paid the investment return when the investment matures, without deduction of DIRT.
- The investment return may also be subject to the Universal Service Charge (USC) in your hands in the year in which the investment matures. This may change as the details of the December 2010 budget are implemented.
- The investment return may also be subject to PRSI in your hands in the tax year in which the Band matures subject to individual investor circumstances.

Warning: The above information represents our understanding of the taxation treatment of the Bond but does not constitute tax advice. Investors should satisfy themselves independently of the taxation treatment of the Bond, in relation to revenue reporting requirements and the implications of non-disclosure in their own personal circumstances.

Warning: This document is based on our understanding of current Revenue law and practice which is subject to change without notice.

(d) No interest will be paid to you in the period up to the Start Date of 23 September 2011.

3. Documentation Requirements

If you are not investing in the Bond on an execution only basis or if you are being advised by an authorised investment intermediary, you must complete a full fact-find for your financial advisor which is required in order to enable your financial advisor to fulfill its obligations in assessing the suitability of this product for your needs. In addition, you will need to satisfy the anti-money laundering requirements outlined above.

4. Your investment

Your investment is 100% capital protected at the Maturity Date. DAM will place your investment in the Account with the Bank. The maturity proceeds of your investment will be returned to you at the end of the Term together with any Investment return payable by the Bank.

5. Interest

(a) The potential Investment Return payable will be determined on the Maturity Date of the Bond. The Investment Return payable on the maturity will be 200% of the uplift, if any, in the Underlying Index and will be added to the capital protected level of 100% of the amount initially invested in the Bond.

(b) The Closing Level of the Underlying Index will be subject to averaging. This is calculated by taking the closing levels of this Index at the Observation Dates and taking their average closing level to provide the final Closing Level. The Observation Dates will be on the 23th day of each month, from and including 23 December 2014 to 18 December 2015 (i.e. 13 observations in total) provided that if the date on which the observation is to be made hereunderis not a trading day for the index, the averaging date will be the next following trading day for the index unless such a day should fall in the next calendar month, in which case it will be the first preceding day that is a trading day.

Please note that Averaging over the Term may have a negative impact on the investment return meaning that you may not receive the maximum benefit of any gains that may be made by the asset within the Underlying Investment Strategy over the Term. However, averaging over the Term may also have the effect of protecting from the full extent of any losses that may be suffered within the asset that makes up the Reference Basket over the Term.

(c) Whilst your investment is 100% capital protected by the Bank, any return that tracks the performance of the Underlying Index is not certain. Investment return is provided from the payout of a financial derivative purchased by the Bank from BNP Paribas (the "Counterparty") before the Start Date. Any investment return payable on the Account at the maturity of the Term is conditional on the fulfilment of the Counterparty's obligations to the Bank.

In certain, albeit unexpected circumstances, the Counterparty may terminate or default on the derivative contract before its natural expiry. If this were to happen, the return on the Account to such termination will be calculated using best market practice and no further investment return will be earned on the Bond.

Investment return earned to the date of termination will be held in an interest bearing deposit account and will be credited to the Account on the Maturity Date. You will be entitled to the return of the Capital Protected Amount plus any investment return earned, payable on maturity. In the event of the Counterparty being unable to fulfil its obligations to the Bank, your returns may be limited to the return of your Capital Protected Amount only.

(d) If any date mentioned in this Clause 5 does not fall on a day on which banks are open for business in London and Dublin, unless otherwise stated, the next following day on which they are open will be used in its place.

(e) The investment return earned on the Bond will be dependant on fluctuations in financial markets that are outside DAM's and the Bank's control. Past Performance or Simulated Past Performance is not a reliable guide to future performance.

6. Withdrawals

(a) Your investment is a fixed investment for the Term of the Bond and is intended only for investors who do not require access to their investment prior to its maturity.

(b) In the event of the death of a sole investor or surviving joint investor prior to the expiry of the Term, the Bond will continue to the Maturity Date in the name of the executor or administrator. Alternatively and where possible, the funds may be withdrawn, subject to normal probate regulations, at the realisable value of the Bond (as determined by the Bank) which may be lower than the lower than the Capital Protected Amount.

No additional investments in the Bond are allowed during the term of the Bond.
